Active Funding

None

Pending Funding

None

Past Funding

Community Access to Child Health (CATCH) Planning Grant Funds 1998
American Academy of Pediatrics $10,000 total costs

Developing a computerized medical database for children in out-of-home care in Philadelphia

Planning funds to develop a computerized medical database for children in out-of-home care in Philadelphia.

Role: PI, departmentally supported effort

Mount Zion Health Fund Grant 2000-2001
Mount Zion Health Fund $30,000 total costs

Immunizations and African American Children: What Do Caregivers Say?

Funds to conduct focus group meetings with guardians of African American children to assess barriers to immunizations in an effort to better understand racial disparities in immunization rates in San Francisco

Role: PI, departmentally supported effort

Research Evaluation and Allocation Committee (REAC) Grant, UCSF 2000-2001
Trevey Medical Research Fund, UCSF $9,860 total costs

Factors Associated with the Prone Sleeping Position for Infants Living in California

Funds to determine the sociodemographic factors, and the maternal health attitudes, behaviors, and use of services that are associated with following the recommended guidelines for infant sleep position in the state of California.

Role: PI, departmentally supported effort

TS-0561 4/12/04 – 9/30/05
ATPM/CDC $11,750 total cost

Microbial and Immune Parameters Associated with Prematurity

The aim of this study is to assess the moderating role of host mucosal immunity and microbial hydrolytic enzymatic activity on the relationship between BV and preterm birth in human pregnancy.

Role: Co-I, with Dr. Jennifer Culhane, Drexel University, as PI

Effort: 10% FTE

TS 312-15/15 Culhane (PI)
ATPM/CDC

4/12/04 – 9/30/05
$11,750 total cost

Biologic Pathways Linking Stress BV and Preterm Birth

This study is designed to test the hypothesis that maternal stress is associated with vaginal infection through the dysregulation of the maternal-placental-fetal endocrine and immune parameters.

Role: Co-I, with Dr. Jennifer Culhane, Drexel University, as PI
Effort: 10% FTE

Pennsylvania State Dept. of Health Center of Excellence for Research 6/01/04- 8/31/09
on Pregnancy Outcomes RFA (02-07-20) $24,870 annual direct costs

The Philadelphia Collaborative Preterm Prevention Project

This project is a large prospective randomized trial aimed at reducing repeat preterm births in Philadelphia women who experience a preterm birth at < 34 weeks gestational age. By targeting a wide variety of risk factors for preterm birth, including identification and treatment of infections, smoking, stress, depression, and abnormal weight (too high or too low) and by delaying repeat pregnancy, we believe we can reduce the repeat preterm birth rate.

Role: Co-I, 10% effort; with Dr. Jennifer Culhane, Drexel University, as PI

Lectureship Grant Award, Section on Breastfeeding
American Academy of Pediatrics

$1,000 total costs

Funds to support breastfeeding panel event, held jointly by the Philadelphia Pediatric Society and the PA AAP to educate physicians and other health professionals in the Philadelphia metropolitan area.
